TECHNICAL FIELD EXPERIENCE refers to duties in covert video, audio, tracking, intrusion detection or TSCM, telephone-related intercepts, computer, video, audio, or mobile forensics. The employee must be actively engaged with hands-on experience in the use of surveillance equipment. This experience must constitute a significant, recurrent workload performed in the service of employment with a public law enforcement, military, or government intelligence agency. Overt duties such as video production/crime scene video and general Information Technology work are not creditable experience when performed by themselves. When performed in the company of covert work, a limited nexus with the covert skill set is recognized and creditable toward meeting this requirement.
